April 13, 2005

WHAT: Release of report “High Technology In New Hampshire: The Future Is Now” by Ross Gittell, professor of management and the James R. Carter Professor, and Jeff Sohl, professor of decision sciences and director of the Center for Venture Research, both at the Whittemore School of Business and Economics at the University of New Hampshire.

WHEN: Thursday, April 21, 2005, 4-6 p.m.

WHERE: The Highlander Inn, Airport Road, Manchester

BACKGROUND: Gittell and Sohl will unveil the results of a recent study focusing on the status of the high tech industry in New Hampshire at an event sponsored by NetworkNH. The study looks specifically at the state’s decline in the industry from 2000-2003, its subsequent recovery, and the future of the industry within New Hampshire. The report will provide key insight into the future of technology within New Hampshire. RSVP to info@mrbin.org by April 18.
