DURHAM, N.H. – Have you ever wondered what it would be like to know what your pet is thinking? Come hear Jeanine Murphy, animal communicator, and learn a new way to understand communication with animals. Murphy will speak at the University of New Hampshire Thursday, April 21, at 7 p.m. in Barton/Cole Hall, 291 Mast Road in Durham.

Murphy's presentation is a fundraiser for Elderpet, a non-profit organization facilitating the human/animal bond with the elderly, people with disabilities, hospice families and patients of healthcare facilities. Pre-registration is $10 for students and seniors; $15 for adults. Registration at the door is $20.

Refreshments will be served.

Murphy will not be doing readings this evening, so please leave animal companions at home.

For more information, contact UNH Professor Jerilee Zezula at 603-862-1014. Visit the Elderpet web site at www.unh.edu/elderpet to download a preregistration form.
