DURHAM, N.H. -- The University of New Hampshire Dairy Barn will be having an open house Saturday, April 27, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The public is invited to come for a day filled with informational tours, refreshments and children's games.

UNH's Dairy Barn houses the teaching herd, managed by students enrolled in the university's dairy management program. Students pursuing a degree in this discipline acquire hands-on experience along with their classroom training through UNH's CREAM (Cooperative Real Experience in Agricultural Management) Program.

Directions to the UNH Dairy Barn: When heading east on 155A, take the first left after the Route 4 overpass. On Mast Road, bear left immediately. Continue to bear left on this road, which ends at a T-intersection. Continue to bear left for Dairy Barn Open House parking.
