DURHAM, N.H. - Want to work outdoors this summer? Come to the University of New Hampshire’s annual Outdoor Jobs and Camp Fair Thursday, Feb. 18, 2010, 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. in the Granite State Room of the Memorial Union Building at UNH. More than 25 employers representing non-profit outdoor and environmental agencies, commercial outfitters, summer camps and international travel companies will attend this year’s fair to recruit summer and full-time employees. Some representatives conduct on-the-spot interviews.

The fair, which is free and open to the public, attracts more than 300 students and others from diverse academic fields, including outdoor education, nursing, natural resources, recreation management, theatre arts, business, and equine sciences. Attendees can win raffle prizes donated by local businesses.

Seniors in the outdoor education option of the department of kinesiology at UNH plan and conduct the event, including registration, marketing, sponsorship, and operations, as one of their culminating projects before they graduate.

Employers interested in attending can download registration forms here: http://www.shhs.unh.edu/kin_oe.

The University of New Hampshire, founded in 1866, is a world-class public research university with the feel of a New England liberal arts college. A land, sea, and space-grant university, UNH is the state's flagship public institution, enrolling 12,200 undergraduate and 2,200 graduate students.
