2013 Entrepreneur 'Boot Camp' Set for May 28-29

DURHAM, N.H. – The Carsey Institute and the Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics at the University of New Hampshire will present the Stonyfield Entrepreneurship Institute, a "boot camp" for community-minded entrepreneurs May 28-29, 2013, at the Courtyard Marriott Grappone Conference Center in Concord.

The institute offers an intensive and interactive environment for entrepreneurs to learn about financing, marketing, managing change, and other areas fundamental to growing an enterprise. The program was conceived by Stonyfield Farm co-founder Gary Hirshberg, and is run jointly by Hirshberg and Michael Swack, faculty member at Paul College.

This year's program includes sessions on finance, marketing, understanding the triple bottom line, and digital media. On Tuesday, May 28, the program will feature the presentation of case studies in finance, marketing, and organizational development as well as several live business plan critiques of pre-selected businesses.

Speakers will include Shazi Visram, founder and CEO of Happy Family; Gary Hirshberg, co-founder and chairman of Stonyfield Farm, Inc.; and Andrew Whitman of 2X Consumer Products Growth Partners.

The institute is sponsored by Stonyfield Farm, Inc.; the Carsey Institute at UNH; New Hampshire Business Review; Preti Flaherty; FoodForce; the Community Development Finance Authority; Alpha Loft; the New Hampshire Innovation and Commercialization Center; Idea Greenhouse; ABI Innovation Hub; and the Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics.

Cost to attend the institute is $275. Tuesday lunch and dinner and Wednesday continental breakfast and lunch are included. Accommodations are available at the Courtyard Marriott Grappone Conference Center in Concord. Contact the hotel at 603-225-0303 or 800-321-2211 for more information.

Conference registration deadline is May 10, 2013. For more information, including a complete agenda, and registration, visit the Stonyfield Entrepreneurship Institute at <http://www.carseyinstitute.unh.edu/sei>, or contact Susan Colucci at susan.colucci@unh.edu or 603-862-2821.
