UNH's annual Undergraduate Research Conference (URC) — one of the largest and most diverse conferences of its kind in the country — is officially underway, celebrating its 24th year with presentations from more than 1,500 students mentored by more than 300 faculty members and other research advisers. The event will run through Saturday, April 22.

Students from all academic disciplines present at the conference, which showcases the results of student research and scholarly and creative projects. Student presenters represent disciplines from across the academic spectrum, reflecting the breadth and depth of undergraduate research and scholarship at UNH.
