

Canadian Studies NH Int'l Seminar Lecture

National French Week

"French North America: Past, Present, and a Future "

Sponsored by Center for International Education

Date: November 5, 2008

Time: 4:00-6:00 pm

Location: Demeritt 112

Dr. Barry Rodrigue

Associate Professor of Arts and Humanities

Director of the French North American Studies program

University of Southern Maine

Lewiston-Auburn, Maine

Respondent: Julien Olivier, D. Min.

Chaplain at Wentworth-Douglass Hospital, Dover, NH

Dr. Barry Rodrigue and his students have organized conferences of the world's leading authorities on French North America, which contributed to anthologies that Professor Rodrigue has published, Vision et Visages (2001) and Franco-Amérique (2008). Students also became associate editors of his recent book, Voyages: A Maine Franco-American Reader (2007); copies of this book will be available for signing and purchase.

Respondent Julien Olivier will be bringing some copies of his book Of Kings and Fools: Storytellers in the French Tradition in North America (1996) for signing and purchase as well.

For more information, Claire Malarte-Feldman, Director, CIE, Hood House, 603-862-2399.

To learn about the Canadian Studies minor, visit http://www.unh.edu/cie/students/minor_canadian.html