RISK: Health, Safety & Environment (1990-2002)

Volume 8 | Number 1

January 1997

Table of Contents Volume Eight, Number One, Winter 1997

RISK Editorial Board

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholars.unh.edu/risk

Part of the Environmental Sciences Commons, Law Commons, Life Sciences Commons, and the Social and Behavioral Sciences Commons

Repository Citation
Risk Editorial Board, Table of Contents Volume Eight, Number One, Winter 1997, 8 RISK [ii] (1997).

This Prefatory Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the University of New Hampshire – Franklin Pierce School of Law at University of New Hampshire Scholars’ Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in RISK: Health, Safety & Environment (1990-2002) by an authorized editor of University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository. For more information, please contact ellen.phillips@law.unh.edu.
Comments
Kristin S. Shrader-Frechette, How Some Risk Frameworks Disenfranchise the Public
Responds to recent characterizations of her work. .......................................................... 1

Explains the basis for his strong dissent to an NAS report on Yucca Mountain. ................ 9

Kristin S. Shrader-Frechette, Overview of the Academy’s Yucca Mountain Recommendations
Offers alternative criticism of the NAS report. ................................................................. 25

Articles
John M. Gleason, The Decision to Reactivate a First-Generation Soviet Nuclear Power Plant: Conceptual and Decision-Analytic Frameworks
Explores a variety of factors that led to reopening the Armenian Metsamor facility notwithstanding general agreement that this is unwarranted technologically. .............................................. 39

Ragnar E. Lofstedt, Evaluation of Siting Strategies: The Case of Two UK Waste Tire Incinerators
Examines the circumstances that may have contributed to differing outcomes with respect to siting similar facilities in the UK. ................................................................. 63

Admassu Tassew, AIDS News as Risk Communication
Reports a study of AIDS prevention stories in four prestige dailies, two in Europe and two in Africa, over an eight-year period. ................................................................. 79
Book Reviews

Baruch A. Brody, Ethical Issues in Drug Testing, Approval, and Pricing
Annalee Abelson ........................................ 91

Amer El-Ahraf & William V. Willis, Management of Animal Waste —
Environmental Health Problems and Technological Solutions
Penny Dean .................................................. 93

Families, Physicians and Children with Special Health Needs (Rosalyn Benjamin Darling & Margo I. Peter, eds.)
Annalee Abelson ........................................ 95

Michael D. Green, Bendectin and Birth Defects: The Challenges of Mass Toxic Substances Litigation
Stefan Oglevee ............................................. 97

Kenneth F. McCallion, Shoreham and the Rise and Fall of the Nuclear Power Industry
Jennifer M. Graves ....................................... 99

Bruce M. Owen et al., The Economics of a Disaster — The Exxon
Valdez Oil Spill
William C. Shaw II ....................................... 101

Clovis E. Semmes, Racism, Health, and Post-Industrialism: A Theory of African-American Health
Jerry Haynes ............................................. 103

Associate Editors Sought

Risk seeks up to ten, energetic Associate Editors to be responsible for (1) having articles within their area or competence refereed as promptly as possible, (2) ensuring that accepted articles reasonably conform to referees' suggestions and to our authors' guidelines and (3) basic redline editing. It would also be helpful if associate editors could solicit book reviews in their areas of expertise.

We hope to appoint these Editors by August. Anyone interested should send a brief biosketch and a letter setting forth the area for which they would propose to accept responsibility, their goals for the position and their commitment to perform needed tasks. Questions may be sent by email to <tfield@fplc.edu>.

Join RAPA

On the web, see http://www.fplc.edu/tfield/RAPA.htm.