DURHAM, NH – Governor Chris Sununu's job approval is at an all-time high; two-thirds of Granite Staters approve of his performance and six in ten have a favorable personal opinion of him. Majorities of Democrats, Independents, and Republicans approve of the job the State Legislature is doing and nearly three-quarters say things in the state are going in the right direction. Fewer Granite Staters cite drugs as the most important problem facing the state than said so over the past three years.

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Six hundred four (604) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed in English by landline and cellular telephone between February 18 and February 26, 2019. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.0 percent.

Gubernatorial Approval

Following his re-election as Governor last fall, Chris Sununu enjoys wide popularity in the Granite State; two-thirds of New Hampshire adults (66%) approve of the job Sununu is doing as Governor, 16% disapprove, and 18% neither approve nor disapprove or are unsure. This represents Sununu's highest level of popularity since being elected.

Gubernatorial Approval - Chris Sununu

* We ask that this copyrighted information be referred to as the Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center.

Eighty-three percent of New Hampshire Republicans approve of the job Sununu is doing and just over half (58%) of Independents and Democrats (51%) approve.

Conservative talk radio listeners, those who voted for Donald Trump in 2016, self-described conservatives, those aged 50 and older, Central/Lakes Region residents, and those who attend religious services once a week or more often are most likely to approve of Sununu's job performance. Approval of Sununu increased significantly since October among Central/Lakes Region and North Country Residents, those aged 50 and older, and those who voted for Hillary Clinton in 2016. Those aged 49 and younger, those who voted for Hillary Clinton in 2016, and self-described liberals are least likely to approve.

Job Approval - Governor Chris Sununu - By Party Identification

On a scale where "strongly approve" equals 7 and "strongly disapprove" equals 1, Sununu's average approval score (5.2) is higher than that of Maggie Hassan (4.6) at the same point in her governorship, but remains lower than John Lynch's level of support at the same point (5.7).

NH Heading in Right Direction or On Wrong Track

Granite Staters continue to believe the state is headed in the right direction. Seventy-three percent of Granite Staters say things in NH are generally going in the right direction, while 19% say things are seriously off on the wrong track and 9% don't know or are unsure.

Optimism about the state's future is bipartisan: 77% of Republicans, 72% of Democrats, and 64% of Independents feel the state is headed in the right direction. Optimism among Democrats (72%) has increased since October 2018 (58%).

NH Right Track – Wrong Track

Most Important Problem Facing New Hampshire

Thirty-seven percent of Granite Staters believe the drug crisis is the most important problem facing New Hampshire, a decline of 17% since April 2018. Twelve percent say that jobs or the economy is the most important problem facing the state, 10% cite education, 5% mention healthcare, 3% mention taxes, and less than 1% cite the state budget. Just over a quarter of respondents mention another problem while 6% don't know or are unsure.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Six hundred four (604) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed in English by landline and cellular telephone between February 18 and February 26, 2019. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.0 percent. These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The design effect for the survey is 1.2%.

The random sample used in the Granite State Poll was purchased from Scientific Telephone Samples (STS), Rancho Santo Margarita, CA. STS screens each selected telephone number to eliminate non-working numbers, disconnected numbers, and business numbers to improve the efficiency of the sample, reducing the amount of time interviewers spend calling non-usable numbers. When a landline number is reached, the interviewer randomly selects a member of the household by asking to speak with the adult currently living in the household who has had the most recent birthday. This selection process ensures that every adult (18 years of age or older) in the household has an equal chance of being included in the survey.

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households. Additionally, data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%. The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions.
